

YOUR COURSE INSTRUCTORS: A WHO'S WHO OF THE NONWOVENS WORLD.

INSTRUCTORS

Lead Instructor: Ed Thomas, Head of Research and Product Development, First Quality, Fiberweb, (retired)

Brad Kalil, Director of Market Research & Statistics, INDA

David Nelson, Industrial Extension Specialist, The Nonwovens Institute, 3M, (retired)

Behnam Pourdeyhimi, Ph.D., The William A. Klopman Distinguished Chaired Professor of Materials in the College of Textiles at North Carolina State University, Associate Dean for Industry Research and Extension in the College of Textiles, Founding Executive Director of The Nonwovens Institute

Dave Rouse, President, INDA

Stephen Sharp, NWI Pilot Facilities Manager, The Nonwovens Institute

"I learned a lot over these past few days and hope to take it on to the next stage of my career. This is a highly recommended class for anyone involved in any aspect of nonwovens."

- Jeffrey Dapaah
Nonwovens Technician,
Nice Pak Products

"Class was excellent and I will be recommending other key individuals at Michelman to attend future sessions. This class summed up key technology, materials, and market drivers which enhanced my basic industry understanding."

- Christina May
Market Development Manager,
Michelman, Inc.

THE FUNDAMENTALS OF NONWOVENS
COMPOSITION, RAW MATERIAL PROPERTIES
AND MANUFACTURING PROCESSES, WITH LIVE PILOT LINE DEMONSTRATIONS.